House Therapy

Free energy-saving home improvements provide a boost for stretched budgets

Making your home more efficient can help cut costs on your monthly energy bills. Our House Therapy program offers free energy-saving professional services to replace inefficient appliances and to weatherize homes for qualified customers.

We offer this program through area Community Action agencies. Your local agency will determine eligibility, coordinate your energy audit based on your qualifying needs, and hire local contractors to make the recommended improvements to your home. See chart on reverse to find the Community Action agency nearest you.
