

When you need us most,
we'll continue to be here.

People you can count on.

Providing power around the clock is our business. And each one of our employees works hard to keep your power on. From those braving the elements during outages to those putting in long hours monitoring and maintaining our systems, we strive to be reliable.

For more on our reliability story—including videos featuring our employees—check out otpc.com/reliability.