You have the power to make a difference

We're pleased to offer you the option to buy additional wind-generated electricity to power your home. Although wind is free, the technology necessary to convert this energy into electricity is not. If environmental issues are important to you, purchasing additional wind energy from TailWinds is the perfect opportunity to demonstrate your commitment to clean and affordable renewable energy.

For an additional $3.39 charge on your monthly electric service statement, you can purchase a 100-kWh block of wind-generated electricity. Power most of your home with TailWinds or a single appliance—the choice is yours. To see which appliances you can power each month with a few blocks of TailWinds electricity, review the chart on the right.

Monthly blocks of energy used by typical electric home appliances

Appliance	100-kWh blocks
Refrigerator	1
Clothes dryer	1
Freezer	1
Small room air conditioner	3
Kitchen range	4
Water heater (family of 4)	4

The cost is minimal. The benefits are priceless.

As the fastest-growing source of renewable emission-free energy, wind power helps reduce our dependence on fossil fuels and conserve our natural resources for future generations.

The Great Plains harnesses some of our nation's best wind resources. In fact, the ten states with the highest potential for producing wind-generated electricity include North Dakota, South Dakota, and Minnesota. North Dakota winds are capable of producing enough electricity to meet nearly one-fourth of the nation's electricity demand!
