The screenshot shows a web application titled "Find a contractor". At the top, there is a white box with the heading "Find a contractor" and a paragraph: "Looking to install energy-efficient equipment? Use our tool to search for experienced contractors, near you, trained on our residential and commercial rebate program requirements. This tool includes contractors that have installed rebate-eligible projects in the past 18 months." Below this is a search filter section with a "Service" dropdown menu set to "Cold-climate heat pump installatio", a "Zip code" input field containing "56537", and a blue "Update filters" button. To the right of the filters is a "Sort by distance" dropdown menu. The main content area displays a list of contractors, each with a link to their profile, their location and distance, and a list of services they offer, each preceded by a checked radio button. The contractors listed are Nelson Plumbing (0.8 miles away), Bjorn's Heating and A/C Inc (0.9 miles away), John's Heating and A/C (0.9 miles away), Otter Electric (1 mile away), and Premier Electric, Inc. (1 mile away). A disclaimer at the bottom left states: "Disclaimer: We created our Find a contractor tool to help customers locate known contractors in your area who install efficient technologies. We don't recommend or endorse contractors or their products."
